Basic Information Year: 1152 pages File Type: PDF File Size: 11.06 MB Authors/ Editors: Paediatric Formulary Committee The BNF for Children (BNFC) 2019-2020 provides essential practical information to all healthcare professionals involved in the prescribing, dispensing, monitoring and administration of medicines to children. It addresses a significant knowledge gap in many areas of paediatric practice by providing practical information on the use of medicines in children of all ages from birth to adolescence. Android is a trademark of Google LLC. Got a question? Drawing information from manufacturers' literature where appropriate, BNFC also includes a great deal of advice that goes beyond marketing authorisations (product licences). Read our FAQs to find out more about the BNF and BNF for Children app. A joint publication of the British Medical Association, the Royal Pharmaceutical Society, the Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health, and the Neonatal and Paediatric Pharmacists Group, BNF for Children ('BNFC') is published under the authority of a Paediatric Formulary Committee which comprises representatives of these bodies, the Department of Health for England, and the Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency. The BNF for Children 2018-2019 has been revised and revalidated to reflect changes in product availability, emerging safety concerns and shifts in clinical practice. BNFC addresses this significant knowledge gap by providing practical information on the use of medicines in children of all ages from birth to adolescence. Internet access is not required. Less detail is given on areas such as malignant disease and the very specialist use of medicines generally undertaken in tertiary centres. BNFC has been designed for rapid reference and the information presented has been carefully selected to aid decisions on prescribing, dispensing and administration of medicines. xvii are cumulative (from one print edition to the next), and can be printed off each month to show the main changes since the last print edition as an aide memoire for those using print copies. Information in BNFC has been validated against emerging evidence, best-practice guidelines, and crucially, advice from a network of clinical experts. The content has been carefully validated by a network of paediatric experts and the process is overseen by a paediatric formulary committee. The print edition of BNF for Children is updated in September each year. Apple, the Apple logo, iPhone, and iPad are trademarks of Apple Inc., registered in the U.S. and other countries and regions App Store is a service mark of Apple Inc. Information is also available from Medicines Information Services (see inside front cover). Many areas of paediatric practice have suffered from inadequate information on effective medicines. Do I need internet access to use the app? The app can be downloaded from the Apple App Store for iOS devices and the Google Play Store for Android devices. Careful consideration has been given to establishing the clinical need for unlicensed interventions with respect to the evidence and experience of their safety and efficacy; local paediatric formularies, clinical literature and national information resources have been invaluable in this process. Choice - search or browse BNF and BNF for Children, switch between adult and child content, colour-coded to aid navigation Flexibility - fully functional online and offline Relevance - powerful Interactions Checker tool to identify interactions between drugs Speed - quick and easy to use with intuitive design Up-to-date - clinical content is updated every month, helpful prompts let you know when an update is available Quick app guide Who can use the BNF and BNF for Children app? There is no Editorial Review for this book Currently we found no user's reviews for this book. BNF for Children 2019-2020 (British National Formulary)BNF for Children 2019-2020 aims to provide prescribers, pharmacists, and other healthcare professionals with sound up-to-date information on the use of medicines for treating children. The NICE British National Formulary (BNF) site is only available to users in the UK (England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland). Monthly updates are provided online via the website , MedicinesComplete and the NHS Evidence portal. BNFC should be interpreted in the light of professional knowledge and it should be supplemented as necessary by specialised publications. It is important to use the most recent BNFC information for making clinical decisions. If you are outside the UK, you can access BNF content by subscribing to Medicines Complete. If you believe you are seeing this page in error, please contact us. The app is for exclusive use by UK healthcare professionals working for the NHS (including prescribers, pharmacists, doctors, nurses and dentists). Once you have downloaded the app all features and functionality are accessible both online and offline. This is necessary because licensed indications frequently do not cover the clinical needs of children; in some cases, products for use in children need to be specially manufactured or imported. The app aims to provide sound, up-to-date information about the use of medicines. Recommendations in the BNFC have been constructed on the basis of authoritative sources, emerging evidence and best practice guidelines. How can I access the app?
